CODE OF CONDUCT FOR SUPPLIERS AND SERVICE PROVIDERS

PREFACE

Our company's reputation has grown constantly over the last 100 years. Our customers, suppliers, service providers and business partners place their trust in us based on many years of reliable partnership and the solidity of an independent family enterprise, which develops dynamically and continuously improves.

We are therefore responsible for ensuring that our products and services are produced within a supply chain that complies with international standards. Therefore we have summarized our expectations to our suppliers and service providers (HELLA partners) with respect to working conditions, health and safety, environment and business ethics in the following "Supplier Code of Conduct." This code of conduct is based in particular upon the principles of the "UN Global Compact", the standards set out in the conventions of the ILO (International Labor Organization) and the code of conduct of the electronics industry (EICC).

The HELLA Supplier Code of Conduct defines HELLA's principles and our expectations to our HELLA partners and their employees. This includes acting responsibly and abiding by the principles set out herein.

We expect our partners to ensure that their own suppliers and service providers will also adhere to and abide by the principles of this code of conduct and the standards upon which it is based. In the event that other regulations or laws impose more extensive provisions, these have priority over this code of conduct.

HELLA will use this code of conduct as part of its supplier selection and evaluation procedures. HELLA reserves the right to potentially end its business relationship with HELLA partners if they do not adhere to the principles defined below.

Adherence to these principles throughout the entire supply chain is of great significance to HELLA. We are counting on your support as part of this supply chain.

If you have any questions about this code of conduct, please refer them to your HELLA Procurement contact.
